Description

Applying the right key techniques and processes to effectively and innovatively facilitate strategic planning sessions is an extremely valuable skill for any person in a leadership position.

This 2-day programme provides the understanding and tools that enable you to lead and direct groups or teams to discover and clarify their own shared purpose. You will also be able to develop a basic strategic plan that will be sure to drive teams towards successful execution.

What will be covered?

- The building blocks of a strategic plan;
- Guidelines for developing a strategic plan and evaluating its effectiveness;
- The steps in the strategic planning process;
- Tools, tips and techniques to successfully facilitate a team through the strategic planning process;
- Designing and tailoring the strategic planning process to meet specific group requirements.
- Facilitating difficult situations and identifying pitfalls to avoid.

Who should attend

Consultants, managers, senior leaders, facilitators, organisational development practitioners, change agents, human resource practitioners, and any other person involved in the development of planning for accomplishing growth objectives or for improving current processes.
